We have all been conditioned to believe that whenever a crime is committed against us that we should report the matter to An Garda Síochána. The Gardaí will then diligently investigate the crime with the intention of arresting and charging the perpetrator. The perpetrator then appears in Court to face the music. This is how we get justice, and this is how ‘the bad guys’ get their comeuppance - right?

Wrong! The description above is how things are supposed to work. But unfortunately, as many victims of crime will testify, our justice system is repeatedly and systematically failing us. Worse than that, it seems that many of those in exalted positions of authority are greatly abusing our trust and in far too many cases are in fact engaged in criminal activity themselves. Whether this be outright criminality such as serious misconduct in public office; of personal acts of fraud and deception; or of unwarranted assaults on members of the public (for example) - or whether more subtle forms of criminality are at work behind the scenes, such as internal conspiracies to cover-up their colleagues’ wrongdoing - it is clear that if YOU are the victim of any such official criminality, then you face a very difficult uphill battle (to put it mildly) getting anyone in authority to act on your complaints. Because it remains an open secret here in Ireland that if the perpetrators are in any way ‘connected’ that our justice system is far more likely to throw up a wall of protection and denials around them - than to expose and prosecute them. This is where this little book comes in.

This book details a free and simple legal process whereby you or I can take immediate and effective action against any other person who commits a crime against you. And if that other person happens to be a Garda, a lawyer, an ‘Officer of the Court’ or a Government Minister - well, all the more reason perhaps to take firm and immediate action - right?

ABOUT THIS BOOK

This book “D.I.Y. Justice in Ireland” has been produced as a supplement to the recently published ‘Integrity Ireland SOS Guide’ and is for those who are ready to take direct action against rogue authority figures. It comprises some important new materials plus a selection of extracts from the much larger ‘SOS Guide’ which was our first attempt to produce essential information and guidelines to help the Irish public negotiate an often convoluted and confusing justice system with some level of understanding.

This book focuses specifically on the little-known but long-established Common Informer legislation and how the ordinary citizen can prosecute others without having to rely on the Gardaí or the Office of the DPP in support. This is the proverbial ‘Achilles heel’ of a very unjust, justice system.

Both publications are works in progress that were born out of the experiences of various Integrity Ireland members who, in some cases, have experienced decades of frustration, abuse and exploitation at the hands of corrupt authorities and errant legal professionals, and who want to ensure that others do not suffer the same experience. This is the core principle that lies at the heart of the Integrity Ireland ethos; that in helping others, that ultimately, we also help ourselves.

For legal reasons it needs to be emphasised that we do not claim to be offering ‘legal advice’ nor are we qualified to do so - other than as a result of the combined experiences of Integrity Ireland members who have freely offered to share their often-painful experiences and insights with others. What we do claim to be offering here is some intelligible method whereby ordinary members of the public can use the law to hold errant authority figures properly to account - in a quick, easy and cost-effective way but without the need to engage with Gardaí, lawyers or other State agencies who, regrettably, have failed the public so often in the recent past.

This book is produced in 5 x 8 pocket-size format for ease of handling and to keep printing costs down, but as a result, we cannot include some of the full-size A4 forms and other notices from the larger SOS Guide which will support your Common Informer applications. We have included some scaled-down versions of those forms which hopefully can be enlarged on a standard photocopier. Alternatively, please contact your local I-I branch for assistance, because the more of us that engage in the tactics of direct action - the sooner the authorities will realise that they cannot continue abusing their mandates to serve the people - at least, not without some personal consequences. We would ask however, that if you are not a fully signed-up member of Integrity Ireland who has agreed to abide by our Terms & Guidelines, that you please remove the I-I logo before using those forms. Better still, sign up with us via the Integrity Ireland website or via Facebook and gain all of the advantages of full membership.

This book is copyrighted to Checkpoint Press and we would ask that if you require further copies that you purchase new copies directly from us so that any modest profits generated can be recycled back into Integrity Ireland projects and support. Bulk or wholesale orders can be sourced at 30% discount by emailing 'bookstore@checkpointpress.com'.

Alternatively, you can purchase this book or the SOS Guide online from all the major retailers worldwide or by quoting the respective ISBN's and titles to your local bookstore: 978-1-906628-72-7: *The Integrity Ireland S.O.S. Guide. 978-1-906628-73-4: *D.I.Y. Justice in Ireland. Discounted copies are available to I-I members and supporters, and to those who attend I-I meetings.

Finally, as you read through this book, please feel free to alert us as to any apparent errors or mistakes, or, feel free to suggest additional materials which can be incorporated into subsequent versions by emailing 'sos@integrityireland.ie'. Original materials will be credited respectively. STM 2016

Ten Things You Absolutely Need to Know

1. The Irish justice system is fundamentally capricious, flawed, & inconsistent, and generally ‘unfit for purpose’.
2. The publicly-stated aims, goals and objectives of the Dept. of Justice are NOT to be believed or trusted.
3. On the whole, those in senior positions of authority have NOT been promoted on merit, but on their political connections and willingness to protect the status quo.
4. The self-regulated Irish legal profession is rife with malpractice; fraud, perjury, deception, collusion, and the wholesale abuse and exploitation of the Irish public.
5. Justice-related State agencies such as the Chief State Solicitor’s Office and the Office of the DPP - as well as other State bodies such as NAMA, GSOC and the Legal Aid Board variously ‘share’ key personnel, information and resources with a number of private Irish law firms.
6. Rank-and-file Gardaí are poorly trained and resourced, are poorly paid, and are subject to internal intimidation by superiors, to punitive strictures, secretive codes, and difficult and often amoral working conditions.
7. The Courts Service is a private corporation whose objective and priority is to turn a profit.
8. Judges are politically appointed, and cannot be sacked.
9. There is wholesale inconsistency, rule-breaking and unpredictability surrounding activities in our Courts.
10. At present, there is NO truly ‘independent’ or effective oversight of any of these agencies, and little or no regulation that might prevent repeated wrongdoing on the part of their various officers, agents and employees; and the current Minister for Justice shows no interest in implementing any.

The Supreme Court Ruling

On July 30th 2015, the Supreme Court of Ireland made a seventeen page ruling in a case which was initiated by Common Informer.

* * *

The right to private criminal prosecution was unequivocally endorsed and guaranteed under the current legislation.

* * *

The simple processes and procedures outlined in this book were likewise acknowledged and reinforced.

* * *

At the time of writing therefore, there is no lawful way that anyone in authority can prevent any member of the public from initiating private criminal prosecutions against any other person.

* * *

So, let's make sure that justice, transparency & accountability matters!
